-Nassau to Meet Stevens in Their Second Gridiron Battle-Practice the Different Varsity Squads.

Yale is through with midweek football games, having scheduled only one, but of the big elevens Harvard, Princeton and Pennsylvania are booked to hook up with For their second game the Tigers have Stevens as an opponent, and there isn't much fear that the light Hoboken men will make it warm for the big Nassau men will make it warm for the big Kassau representatives. Pennsylvania meets Villanova, which team made it lively for the Carlisis Indians the other day. To-day's schedule follows:

Hardard vs. Bates, at Cambridge.

New Haven, Oct. 6.—For the first time this season the scrub team scored on the lale varisity at the field this afternoon, the varisity, though it had all of its starmen in the game, seeming wofully weak. Brides and Daly at halfback on the scrub team seemed to have things their way from the start. At the centre of the field, soon after the scrimmage had begun, Coytried a pass which Brides intercepted. Then Brides and Daly alternated in carrying this ball and it was taken to the five yard line, where Brides took it over for a touchdown. The varsity was unable to make gains against the scrub team, which was strengthened by the fact that Clarence Alcott of last year's varsity played at end.

The varsity lineup was unchanged today except for the fact that Hopkins was put back at quarterback in place of Bingham. Hopkins is now the first choice for quarter. Ted Lilley, late in the scrimmage, was tried at halfback, but failed to make giths.

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 6.—After the fast pracmake, was fried at hallback, out lasted to make gains.

Cambridge, Oct. 6.—After the fast practice which was held by the Harvard football team yesterday the showing in the practice this afternoon on the eve of the game with Bates was disappointing. The varsity was slow and listless, there was little power in the offence and the second team was able to tear through the big varsity line for substantial gains. The varsity was only allowed to scrimmage a few minutes, after which the substitutes tackled the second team and did a lot better than their principals. Cutler, who has done a lot to speed up the work of the varsity, was not playing to-day, but will be in the game to-morrow. Browne was at quarterback, but did poorly. Gray and Smith in the back field-were also weak. Corbett was as formidable in a broken field as ever, but his support was poor. The varsity was unable to score on the second. The substitutes scored twice on the second. The substitutes scored twice on the second. The substitutes scored twice on the second. The substitutes soored twice on the second. The substitutes stored that he is better than any back on Soldiers Field with the exception of Corbett. He made both the substitutes touchdowns by hard line bucking. Chrysler, the second team quarterback, put up a star game.

West Point, N. Y. Oct. 6.—Coach Nelly

WEST POINT, N. Y. Oct. 6.—Coach Nelly gave the team a long scrimmage to-day continuing the play until in the darkness the men were unrecognizable from the side lines. The line showed much improvement and the coaches were encouraged by the way the line tightened up, and under Tipton's and Cadet Pullen's coaching they played much lower, gaking it impossible for the scrubs to gain. The varsity took the ball in midfield, Greble and Dean charged through the scrubs to the 15 yard mark, where Greble turned his ankle and Taylor went in at halfback. Wood also was replaced by Korn owing to injury. Fachr on the next play plunged through the scrubs 'dine and ran for a touchdown. Chamberlin was placed on the scrubs to-day and repeatedly broke through the varsity's interference and nailed the runner. Carberry, left end, was injured and Hayes was placed in the position.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 6.—There was about an hour's practice at the Naval Academy this afternoon, consisting of a very few minutes of lineup against the scrubs, considerable kicking and passing. The midshipmen play St. John's, the fast local collegians, to-morrow afternoon, and the team will be the same as that which started against Rutgers, except that Donelson will take the place of Robertson at left end, the latter being a little out of shape.

HANOVER, N. H., Oct. 6.—The work of the Dartmouth football squad to-day was extra poor, there being a great deal of fumbling in the practice. A few more were added to the cripple list, among them being Ingersoll and Hawley. Driver, Steward, Ingersoll and Hawley.

Ryan was unable to practise. The lineup to-day was: Elcock, left tackle: Tobin, left guard: Brusse, centre: Robbin, right guard: Pevear, right tackle: L. Bankart, right end? Dodge, quarterback: Greenwood, left halfback: Holman, right halfback: Marks, full-

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 6.—At University Field this afternoon the Tigers played two last and hard halves lasting altogether about forty-five minutes. In the two periods of scrimmage the varsity scored three touchdowns. Capt. Eddie Dillon rushed the first over after a characteristic dash of thirty yards through a broken field. From the next kickoff the varsity by straight tactics got the ball to the scrubs 5 yard line, whence Smith was pushed over for a score. Coxe, who had gone in for Smith, made the third and last tally on a line buck. During the second half there was no scoring, because the leather was given to the scrubs, while the yarsity was placed entirely on the defence. The first string held pretty well, though the scrubs' attack was stringy and poorly developed. Several experiments were made to-day. Pfeifer, who has heretofore been placed in the back field, was at end the is fast, somewhat light, nervy and tackles well. Bamman was shifted from end to tackle. Bamman is heavy and aggressive and seems better for inside play than open.

Drilling the linesmen in blocking and breaking through was Coach Howard Gargan's chief work at Fordham yesterday. It is evident to the coach that his line must be taught effective methods of offensive play if the very fast back field is to receive the protection it requires. From tackly to tackle the line averages less than is pounds, so the men must make up in skill and agility what they fack in weight. That they can be taught to do this is clear from the Amherst game, for they had little difficulty in mastering the much heavier Bay State men. Scanlon reported for practice yesterday, but in a weakened condition. He will not be ready for regular work before the end of the week. Coffey, the right halfback, is another man who is trying hard to get into his last season's condition. A weakness in the stomach has interfered greatly with his play, and on Saturday forced him to the side lines in the middle of the first half. Geary's shoulder continues to bother him, and for the present he is keeping out of the scrimmages. Will Barrett, a star tackle on last season's prepteam, reported yesterday for the first time. He made a good showing in the scrimmages with the scrubs.

UNITERSITY OF VIRGINIA, Oct. 6.—University of Virginia football is just entering upon its second year of football under alumnicoaches and probably this year's results will have a great influence in deciding as to whether the system has come to stay or not. M. T. Cooke, the veteran tackle and line plunger for Virginia, is head coach this season. The team is rounding into shape and if it continues to improve as it did in the interval between the game with St. Johns and Randolph-Macon, it will show up well against the teams it will meet. Honaker, the speedy little quarter of last year's team, has just returned, and looks in good shape. He went immediately to the field in a suit and practised handling punts. He is one of the best open field ground gainers Virginia has ever had and his return was hailed with delight. Stanton, from the University of California, looks very promising as a tackler and has the knack of working his way through a broken field. Among the new men who have done well are Gooch, who played on the scrubs last year: Vetterlein, Wilson, and the Dovell brothers. The schedule as yet upplayed follows:

October 9. Davidson at Charlottesville: 17. Sewanee at Nortolk: 24. A. M. of N. C. at Nortolk: November 7. V. M. I. at Charlottesville: 14. Georgetown at Washington; 26. North Carolina at Richmond.

W. Young, '01, and S. Morris, '06, a former Brown University star, were close followers of the practice. The back field is playing fast, Gorsh has proved the season's find. His snappy work and hard line attacks have gained him a chance for the varsity. Shanley from De La Salle has recovered his steadiness, which made him the star quarterback in the city last year. At present he direct the scrub. Eller, another freshman, has shown ability to punt and will be tried out on the varsity when he masters the signals. Smith of the medical school reported yesterday to the coach and looks well for an end position. Of the squad of forty twenty men are from the freshman class.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Hard luck hits the Cornell football team in great plenty. Head Coach P. J. Larkin, '01, was taken to the city hospital suffering from blood poisoning and may not be able to report for practice for several days. Barney O'Rourks, the veteran tackle, was ordered to the infirmary to-night for an indefinite stay, suffering from a bruised foot. The varsity team, in charge of Coaches Hallidays '01 and Poliak, was driven through a long signal practice this afternoon, preceded by a drill in tackling and handling the bail. Shero and McArthur continued the showing they made yesterday, McArthur in particular putting up a fast game. Clarence Pope was tried at end on the scrubs after he had played for two weeks as fullback. The older Pavek went back to left guard on the varsity, Huribut at left end. Charles Taylor, a canhidate for the freshman team, broke his collarbone in the scrimmage this afternoon and was sent to the hospital.

THE HARVESTER'S FUTURITY. Ed Geers Drives the Winner of Trotting Classic for First Time.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 6.—The sixteenth Kentucky Faturity was won to-day by Ed Geers, driving The Harvester, it being the first time in his career as a driver that the reinsman ever pulled the lines over a winner of the classic event of the trotting turf. The race was never in doubt, as The Harvester outclassed his field and won in straight heats, in the last of which he lowered the record of the race from 2,09%, made by Grace Bond in 1904, to 2.08%.

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Oct. 6.—The entries for the Montclair horse show have closed, and the Dovel brothers. The schedule as yet unplayed follows:

October 9, Davidson at Charlottesville; 17. Sewanee at Norfolk; 24, A. & M. of N. C. at Norfolk: November 7, V. M. I. at Charlottesville; 14. Georgetown at Washington; 28. North Carolina at Richmond.

Signal practice is the order these days in preparation for New York University's game with Stevers Institute on Saturday. H. P. Olcott, the coach, gave his attention entirely to the varsity yesterday, the introduction of several new plays requiring longer work. The team is handicapped for the morning. In the ladies by the absence of its regular quarterback, D. Newlins. Yesterday Galloway, the fast haifback, reported Charlie horse in his leg and will be out of the game until Friday. H. Mowen, last year's captain, and Stiefely. A ware and Dr. J. Earle Budd, who officiated as year.

The second game of the all important three to decide whether the New Yorks are to tie the Cubs was played yesterday and the New Yorks won it. They have only today's same to win to make their percentage the same as Chicago's. The likelihood of winning the pennant is nearer, to an even chance than it was yeaterday, and the situation in the most extraordinary big league season on record is still in an acute stage. While the New Yorks and Bostons were holding the centre of the stage the Phillie and Brooklyns were engaged in a little side

NEW YORK (N. L.), 4: BOSTON (N. L.), 1. Cecil Ferguson, burly and blond and formerly a member of the Pole family, pitched so tellingly against the New Yorks for five innings yesterday that many rooter harbored a large sized dread that the New Yorks out of their last chance to win the pennant. Nearly everybody was worried for that matter, but in the sixth and seventh innings the New Yorks bunched six of their seven hits off Ferguson, won the game and still retain a clutch by Grace Bond in 1904, to 2:08%.

The Tennessee pace for 2:06 class bacers was one of the longest events ever decided over the Lexington track, and resulted in the defeat of The Eel, the over night favorite. Jerry B. won the event, having allowed both The Eel and Minor Heir to race themselves to death in the first four heats, after which he came along and took the next three heats with ease: Minor Heir paced the first heat in 2:00%, the fastest heat of the year and equalling the world's stallion record in a race.

The crowd to-day was one of the largest ever present to witness the Futurity, and the weather was ideal. Notwithstanding the condition of the track, however, it was impossible for Dan Patch to lewer his own world's record of 1:35, the best he could do the mile in being 1:37%. He went the first quarter in 30 seconds, the half in 0:57%, the three-quarters in *1:27°, and the mile in 1:57%.

The Tennessee; 2:05 class, pacing; purse $5.000: and he piloted the New Yorks right through to a cleancut victory. He didn't weaken at any stage, kept the hits scattered and would have shut out the Doves but for Heart's Content, br. 1. 2, by Sandingham—at any stage, kept the hits scattered and would have shut out the Doves but for a muff of a fly by Seymour.

Announcement of the tie verdict found by the board of directors was made on the field by Joe Humphreys, but that didn't ruffle the New Yorks in the least. They proceeded calmly and without any display of feeling to go about their business of winning by the only way left for them to win, the resort to arms. There was the immediate task of the day's victory to be attended to, with future duties to be looked after in due course, and they took up the burden with composure and resolve.

In addition to bunched hits and good pitching on the Knickerbocker side, toere was excellent base running. Husting and watcufumess in that respect made it possible for the New Yorks to add two runs to their collection, and in a close game the mental effect on the enemy of four runs instead of two is no small matter. Herzog and Bridwell made hits at critical moments that went a long way toward breaking up the game, and Wiltse too made a hit whien cut more than a slittle figure. Seymour muffed a fly in the eighth inning and was an unwilling cause of launching a Boston rally, but Sy redeemed himself with a superb throw which killed off the rally.

Two innings of sterility led up to a third in which an almost sure run for New York dissolved into a disappointing blank. Bridwell pushed a single to right, and Becker not only fumbled but booted the ball. Bridwell in consequence scooted to third base with nobody out. Wiltse volleyed a fly just over the infield, and George Browne then and there took occasion to make a wonderful catch, one of the finest of the season. Browne raced in for thirty or forty yards, linged out with his hand and the ball stuck fast in the palm of the glove. He then nade a quick throw to third, and Bridwell narrowly escaped being doubled up. Ferguson was working a wide curve and a slow ball with a fast motion, and he struck out Tenney and forced Herzog to hit to Browne for the third out.

Wiltse got his revenge

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—The Phillies won a loosely played game from the Brooklyns to-day by the score of 9 to 4. Neither team had much trouble in walloping the ball but the Murrays outhit the Donovans. Richie was touched up rather lively in the sixth and eighth finnings, but barring those sessions he held Brooklyn to three hits.

Bell was batted out of the box in the fifth, but Krueger, who succeeded him, did better, keeping the Phillies down to two runs and the same number of hits. Had he received better support Philadelphia would not have scored on him. Young McMillan, who is filling Lewis's shoes at short, had another bad day. The score:

Whitney and Duryes Herses Sold at Auction-To-day's Entries.

One of the largest crowds ever seen at the Fasig-Tipton paddocks, Sheepsheed Bay, attended the sale of racehorses owned by H. P. Whitney, H. B. Duryes and other owners yesterday afternoon. The bidding was lively, and under the circumstances which prevail in the turf world just now good prices were realized. C. R. Ellison paid the top price, $5,100, for Mr. Whitney's Royal Tourist. Ellison also got Westbury for $3,600. Twenty head from the Whitney stable brought a total of $23,040. Charles Ozz bought Blue Grass, a two-year-old filly by Hamburg—Blue Girl, for John E. Madden, the price being $625. Frank D. Weir paid the top price, $2,000, for the two-year-old Strikeout from Mr. Duryea's lot. Thirteen of Mr. Duryea's horses realized a total of $9,125. Chaseaway was sold to George Laportas trained for steeplechase events. J. L. McGinnis let several of his horses go for practically nothing, and then decided to withdraw Notasulga, Troublesome and Spellbound rather than sacrifice them. The

The classic Jerome Handicap, for three-typer-olds, will be the feature of the card at Belmont Park this afternoon, with Fair Play, Angelus and Master Robert probably the best. CHICAGO, Oct. 6 .- Detroit took the American League pennant to-day. Only once in the whole afternoon did Chicago have two on base and none out. That was in was passed. Donovan grinned, fanned out the next two and made Dougherty pop a fly. In the first inning McIntyre led off with single. Bush struck out, but Crawford delivered a two bagger. Cobb had been inserted a hit and four runs were scored in the inning.

With one down in the second, Bush and Crawford singled and Bush was nailed at third. Cobb's hit scored Crawford. After this the Tigers rested easy.

In the ninth the Tigers fired a farewell salvo. Davis fumbled McIntyre's effort and Bush chopped a short hit over the infield. Crawford smote safely—his third hit of the afternoon—and the next two men made outs which sent other people home. McIntyre and Bush scored. The Sox retired rapidly in the ninth and the throng swept over the field, some weeping, others congratulating the Tigers. The score BOSTON, Oct. 6.-The Red Sox trounced New York team again this afternoon, the score being 11 to 3. The visitors tried out a youngster named O'Connor and he did not prove much of a success. He passed seven of the locals, hit three more of which were triples and produced many rune. McManon, another new twirler, was tried by Boston and he looked pretty good, ithough hit rather freely. In addition he hammered out two nice safeties.

Lord tripled in the first inning and scored on Speaker's safe bunt. In the second three hits, two passes, two men hit by pitched balls and Blair's muff of a fly gave Boston five runs. In the seventh a muff by Moriarty, a base on balls and a single added another taily. In the eighth two hits, a base on balls, an out at first, another man, hit by O'Connor and Stahl's triple sent four more runs across the pan. New York scored a run in the second in-ning when Denovan scratched a hit, stole second and came home on Sweeney's drive. DREYFUSS WILL PROTEST.

Says Brush Is Permitted to De Something Which He Had Opposed.

PITTSBURG. Oct: 6.-Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburg team, threatens trouble if an effort is made to play off the New York-Chicago tie game after to-merrow, as permitted by the decision of the National League directors to-day in Cincinnati. The Pittsburg team has disbanded, not stopping to consider the possible con-tingency which has since arisen that Pittsurg may yet the New York and Chicago for first place if New York beats Boston all three and if New York beats Chicago.

Dregruss said to-night:
"I can see neither sense nor fairness in "I can see neither sense nor fairness in that section of the ruling which says the game is to be played over if New York so dealers. Under our own laws that game can never be played over because our season closes to-morrow and the rules, as I understand them, prohibit the playing of postponed or drawn games after that date.

"Did the league not refuse the Western clubs permission to play off postponed games after last Sunday and give impression that the same would hold good against sion that the same would hold good against the Eastern clubs after October 77 Mr.

sion that the same would not good against the Eastern clubs after October 77 Mr. Brush was the gentleman who fought hardest against the Western teams being permitted to play after the closing date fixed in the original schedule, and now the New York owner himself gets permission to break a rule of his own manufacture, or one which he at least fought hard to have adopted. I shall protest against playing a game off out of season.

Regarding the decision calling the disputed New York-Chicago game a tie, Dreyfuss said:

"I am well pleased with the action of the board in declaring the game a tie. That was really the only sensible and strictly legal ruling that could have been made, although personally I was in fa or of the game being awarded to Chicago, and should have so voted had my rights to cast a ballot not been adversely decided yesterday. Under the rules of baseball and the National League the board could do nothing else but declare the game a tie and uphold the league's president and its umpires."

Yale Beats Harvard in Final of Intercollegiate Championship.

Boston, Oct. 6 .- Yale won the intercollegiate golf team championship at the Brae Burn Country Club to-day by defeating the Harvard squad 14 points to 9. The Nassau system of scoring was put in use again after consultation between Capt. Wilder of Harvard and Capt. Van Vicel of Yale instead of continuing the system In the match play this morning Yale won four of the six, getting 9 points to 3 for Harvard.

In the foursomes this afternoon, Van Vicok and Mosser of Yale defeated Wilder and Briggs of Harvard, 3 up and 2 to play, getting 3 points for Yale. Langford and Leightner of Yale, although beaten by Sweeney and Coe of Harvard, were one up at the turn, adding another point to Yale's total. Merriman and Haine of Yale finished all even with Morgan and Lanigan of Harvard, each team getting a point. Capt. Wilder of Harvard was beaten by Capt. Van Vicok, and he and Briggs were also beaten in the foursomes. Wilder's playing gave the impression that he was somewhat overgolfed.

The big match of the morning was be-impression that he was somewhat overgolfed.

The big match of the morning was between the two captains, Wilder and Van Vleck. Van Vleck was out in 37 and had 77 for the round, while Wilder was a stroke more at the turn and two more at the finish. Van Vleck saved a point for his team and squared the match by running down an eight foot put on the ninth green, which he sent in bold fashion past the half stimy which Wilder had laid him. Wilder went into the lead at the twelfth because his opponent found two puts insufficient, but matters were reversed at the thirteenth, where Wilder was the offender. Van Vleck took the fourteerth. They halved the next four holes. Wilder had a chance to win the home hole, but he failed en a abort mashie approach. Van Vleck halved it.

It has been frequently stated that Clasper was the inventor-of the sliding seat, but this is an error, for the first sliding seat was used in America, although on its first was used in America, although on its little.

appearance it was considered a failure.

Fawous, who rowed for the Diamond Sculls and Wingfield Sculls in 1871, slid on his seat, and slides were used by Taylor's four in the race on the Tyne against Winship's crew in 1871. These crews were rigged by Clasper, who from time to time did much to improve the sliding nachinery. He was the first to experiment with brass and glass sliding rods and inally hit upon rollers, which he subsequently improved. Clasper never claimed any of these inventions as he was too modest a man to faunt himself before the public. It was this modesty, perhaps, that always made him such a favorite with the college men, for no professional of this or any other generation had such a host of friends among the Old Blues as Clasper.

To enumerate all the winning shells built by Clasper would not be an easy task even to contine the list to Oxford and Cambridge and the events at Henley, but a notable craft was built by Clasper for Oxford in 1883. At the last moment the Dark Blues gave it preference over their famous Swaddell and Winship boat, and in the Clasper shell they beat the Light Blues and completely upset the 3 to 1 odds on the Cantabs.

Clasper's originality as a builder was shown in the introduction of the "dish" floor shell, which has been copled the world over. Clasper's father was a boat builder and a relative, Rough, now builds with much success at long Bridges, near Oxford. Though he weighed only 126 pounds Clasper was a good sculler. He beat G. Francis in a match from Putney to Mortlake in 1858, and the year following he won the championship in the Thames National Regatta. In 1861, he beat T. TIE GAME-PLAY IT OVER

BASEBALL DIRECTORS' VERDICT IN DISPUTED CONTEST.

They Sustain Pulliam and Score Merkle

-Name To-morrow as Day for New Yorks and Chicages to Meet Again in Final Test at the Pole Grounds CINCINNATI, Oct. 6.—The National League board of directors to-day sustained President Pulliam's decision that the disputed New York-Chicago game of September 23 was a tie. They also decided that the New Yorks shall have another opportunity of playing the game. The decision is signed by Charles H. Ebbets, August Herrmann by Charles H. Eddets, August Herrmann and George B. Dovey of the board.

The directors after a session that occupied the greater portion of thirty-six hours returned a decision late this afternoon in which they upheld the decisions of the umpires, O'Day and Emslie in declaring the game a tie. They also decided that President Pulliam's hands were tied so that he could not order a double header played on the final day of the series between the New Yorks and the Chicagos, hold-ing that as the New York club was willing to play off the disputed game at the time and therefore was not to blame for the failure to play it the New York club should not suffer.

Basing their ruling on these deductions the directors ordered the game to be played off at the Pole Grounds on October 8 or as soon thereafter as possible. This means the Chicago team will have to go to New York for the game, provided it is necessary o play it to decide the National League championship.

The text of that portion of the decision bearing directly upon the issue is as fol-

"In reviewing this entire matter we realize the great importance that the game in question may be in determining as to what club is to be declared the winner of the championship of the National League. In considering the same, the thought has occurred to us as to whether or not the New York club can be deprived of their rights to play off the tie game in question, especially so in view of the fact that the game was not played off by reason of any action of that club. Our judgment and finding is that they cannot be deprived of this right under the circumstances.

"As we have already stated, the evidence shows that the game was not played off on account of the estoppel of the Chicago club under the constitutional operation of their first claim. The evidence, we repeat, also indicates in our judgment that the New York club would have played of this game on the only available day possible had they not been informed that they would not be required to do so. This action on Mr. Pulliam's part cannot be criticised by any one because his hands were tied by the attitude of the Chicago club.

"We therefore hold that the New York club should in all justice and fairness under these conditions be given an opportunity to play off the game in question. For that reason we order that the game be played off on the Polo Grounds on Thursday, October 8, or as soon thereafter as the weather conditions will permit, and both clubs are directed to govern themselves accordingly. We also require that the rules governing the world's series in so far as they apply to the playing field shall govern in this contest."

The directors mentioned the famous play in question as follows:

"Bridwell of New York came to the bat in the last half of the ninth inning with the score tie, 1 to 1, with Merkle on first base and McCormick on third base and two out Bridwell made a line hit to centre field. "On this hit there can be no question but that the game should have been won by the New York club had it not been for the reckless, careless, inexcusable blunder of one of its players, namely, Merkle. In order that a run could have been scored to win the game the following rule applied at the time the bit was made by Bridwell," the decision then quoting rule 50.

This rule is plain, the decision continues, "explicit and cannot be misconstrued by any one. While it may not have been complied with in many other games, while other clubs may not have taken advantage of its provisions in the past under similar conditions, yet it did not deprive the Chicago club of the right to do so if they so desired, notwithstanding that it might be termed as taking advantage of winning or tying a game upon a technicality.

"Merkle should have had only one thing in the last half of the ninth inning with the or tying a game upon a technicality.

"Merkle should have had only on on his mind, viz.; to reach second base in safety by a hit, error or in any other way. The evidence clearly shows the following: After Bridwell hit the ball safely he ran to and over first base: McCormick started for home and crossed the plate: Merkle started for second and when about half way to the base turned and ran in the direction of the clubhouse without having reached second base. Emslie was officiating as umpire back of the pitcher; O'Day back of the catcher.

inlineteen holes): Mrs. W. L. Dewolf, Chicago, beat Miss E. W. Towner, Chicago, 4 and 3. Mrs. L. R. Broehan, Lagragne, Wis., 4 and 3. Mrs. E. L. Perkins, Chicago, beat Mrs. G. D. Smith, Springfield, 1 up (silacteen holes).

JACK CLASPER DEAD.

Fameus Boat Builder Passes Away at the Age of 72.

Jack Clasper, known as a builder of racing shells and with as much of a reputation in America as in England, died at Putney recently at the age of 72. For a couple of generations Clasper boats have been used on this side of the water, and an exceptional specimen is to-day owned by the Harlem Rowing Club. It is an eight oared cedar shell which Clasper built for Harvard thirty-four years ago and is yet stanch and seaworthy and a model of stiffness for this style of craft.

It has been frequently stated that Clasper in the catcher.

When the hit was made Emslie fell to the ground to escape being hit by the ball. He ground to esc

Mr. Murphy: "I would like to as k you, Mr

O'Day, if the matter at Pittsburg had caused you to anticipate a play of this sort?" to anticipate a play of this sort?"

O'Day: "Yes, sir, and I came within an accet to tell Bob, but I thought that I had no sight was my duty to be at the plate and watch them."

"We therefore find that the ruling as made by the umpires was in accordance with the playing rules and in conformity, with what happened on the field at the time. To set aside an umpire's decision on a judgment of play by evidence from the persons in attendance at any game would, to our mind, be establishing a bad and dangerous precedent and one that the baseball public would condemn in a very short time.

In this case, however, there is not a single line or word of testimony offered by the New York club that could even by inference be construed to mean that Merkle reached second base at any time ercepting the affidavit of the player himself, which however was not made until after Mr. Pulliam had passed on the case. We can therefore come to no other conclusion than that the New York club lost a well earned victory as the result of a stupid play of one of its members. We sustain the president in upholding the report of the umpires with reference to this game."

Ebbets after the meeting said he considered it mandatory that the game be played off now. The other members were noncommittat. President Pulliam said. "The decision speaks for itself. I have nothing to say."

"We will play them Thursday, and we'll a supply that the game in the president pulliam said."

noncommittal. President Pulliam said:
"The decision speaks for itself. I have nothing to say."

"We will play them Thursday, and we'll lick 'em too." said President Murphy of the Cubs to-night before his departure for Chicago. "We'll make it so decisive this sime that no bone headed base running can cast a shadow of doubt on the contest.
We want to win the championship on the playing field and not in the legislative halls of baseball politics. The Cubs will leave Chicago to-morrow and arrive in New York
Thursday morning.

"The members of the board of directors who handed down their decision to-day did so only after a long and careful consideration of the complicated matters before them, and I think that each and every one of them acted to the best of his judgment and belief in the premises. Of course the decision is a disappointment to the Chicago club as we felt that the game was ours under the constitution. We will take our medicine, however, and be game, and I feel sure that the Cubs will again prove that they are the greatest team of ball players in the world."
